CHARLOTTE
• Charlotte is the only city in the South to have a major league sports team.
• Nicknamed the Queen City, Charlotte is the fourth largest city in the United States.
• Charlotte is the home of the NBA's Charlotte Hornets and the NHL's Carolina Hurricanes.
• Charlotte is the headquarters of Bank of America.
• Charlotte is a major air hub.
• You can find just over 100 miles of hiking trails.

CHARLOTTE, N.C.: DID YOU KNOW?

Charlotte is one of the largest cities in the South, with just 800,000 people in the city and 1.5 million people in the greater-Charlotte area.

Named the Queen City, Charlotte and its resident county received the name in honor of Charlotte of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, who had become the consort of Great Britain the year before the city's founding. Charlotte supports 12 television stations, 18 local radio stations and one daily newspaper, The Charlotte Observer.

Charlotte is a national sports hub, home to the NFL's Carolina Panthers, the NBA's Charlotte Hornets, NASCAR's Lowe's Motor Speedway, the MLB's Charlotte Knights — Triple-A affiliate of the Chicago White Sox —, and the AHL's Charlotte Checkers — the AHL affiliate of the NHL's Carolina Hurricanes.

Charlotte is the second-largest financial center in the United States and headquarters for 10 Fortune 500 companies including Bank of America, Lowe's, Goodrich Corporation, and Chiquita Brands..

Charlotte/Douglas International carries 594 flights daily from nine airlines, and is home to U.S. Air's largest hub.

You can get to either the Blue Ridge Parkway or the Atlantic Ocean in under two hours from Charlotte.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

academic excellence

Davidson students explore the liberal arts curriculum in depth and enjoy close faculty collaboration. With 1,900 students, the college is large enough for a diverse and invigorating intellectual engagement, but small enough to foster individual experience and opportunity.

Davidson offers over 850 courses and supports 25 majors and 17 academic concentrations. Students may participate in pre-law, pre-medicine, pre-dentistry or dual-degree engineering programs or may design their own independent study classes or interdisciplinary majors.

Students may also apply for funds to support research and travel, and many opportunities exist for summer research positions with Davidson faculty.

Personal relationships with professors and classes limited to 15 students allow for the development of creative, collaborative relationships resulting in a unique academic experience.

affordability

Through a historic decision made by the college community and Board of Trustees, The Davidson Trust meets 100 percent of demonstrated financial need of accepted students through a combination of grants and campus employment, without relying on loans.

In support of the college's longstanding commitment to need-blind admission, The Davidson Trust makes it possible for talented students from all backgrounds to imagine coming to Davidson, and for graduates to plan for their futures based on their interests and passions.

Davidson was the first liberal arts college in the nation to establish this type of program, in part because affordability of education has always been a priority for the college. Davidson's founders were determined to keep the cost of education within the reach of many in our land, who could not otherwise obtain it. The Davidson Trust helps realize that historic goal, and through it, sustains a diverse academic community united by intelligence, curiosity, courage, ambition, and character. By ensuring access for all students, Davidson keeps faith with its past and secures its future.

In 2012, Davidson alumnus and long-time supporter Edward L. "Ted" Baker '57, bequeathed the college a $25-million gift in support of The Davidson Trust.

soCon academic honor roll

Davidson landed a league-high 258 student-athletes on the Southern Conference Academic Honor Roll for the 2012-13 academic year. It's the third year in a row Davidson has led the league.

23 Rhodes Scholars

Davidson counts 23 Rhodes Scholars amongst its alumni. Established by the late Cecil Rhodes in 1902, the prestigious scholarship provides support for study at England's Oxford University for students from around the world who are outstanding intellectually and show qualities of moral leadership and social purpose.

ncaa public recognition awards

The NCAA formally released Public Recognition Awards for the sports teams achieving the highest level of academic performance in Division I, and the list included 14 Davidson College athletic programs.

The most recent APR scores are multi-year rates based on scores from the 2009-10, 2010-11, 2011-12 and 2012-2013 academic years. This announcement is part of the overall Division I academic reform effort and is intended to highlight teams that demonstrate a commitment to academic progress and retention of student-athletes by achieving the top APRs within their respective sports.

"This national acknowledgment is a tribute to the efforts of our tremendous student-athletes and the faculty and coaches who tirelessly guide them as they seek success in both academics and athletics," said Davidson Director of Athletics Jim Murphy. "We are very proud of them all."

Led by Davidson's 11 programs honored, a total of 39 Southern Conference teams representing nine member institutions earned the accolade. Davidson was one of six schools to have multiple programs honored, and accounted for seven of the 19 SoCon women's teams honored and four of the 20 men's SoCon programs acknowledged. Including Davidson, four schools had at least one men's and one women's program honored while the Wildcat baseball, wrestling, women's soccer and volleyball teams were the lone league representatives in their sport.

President Carol Quillen

distinctly davidson

A variety of options and opportunities set Davidson apart, including its strong Honor Code, commitment to community service and Division I athletics:

- Davidson's historic and student-administered Honor Code offers both the freedom and responsibility of self-scheduled and unproctored exams.
- With the Dean Rusk International Studies Program, 12 Davidson-directed study abroad programs and off-campus study programs in 17 locations worldwide, more than 70 percent of students graduate with experience abroad.
- Davidson fields 21 NCAA Division I varsity teams, with athletes' graduation rate at over 90 percent, just a few points higher than the rest of the student body. Davidson's scholar athletes are well known for having the heaviest luggage of any team on the road—bags full of books and notes.
- Davidson's alumni are committed to the mission of the college with 60 percent of alumni donating to college every year for the past 11 years.

affordability

Davidson is a national leader on affordability initiatives, with need-blind admission and meeting 100 percent of demonstrated financial need with a combination of grants and student employment. In a ground-breaking initiative known as the Davidson Trust, Davidson was the first liberal arts college to eliminate the loan component in financial aid packages.

Davidson believes that its educational offerings should be affordable for every admitted student, regardless of a family's financial means. Thanks to Davidson's commitment to need-blind admission, a student's character, accomplishments and academic potential are the only factors in the decision—not ability to pay.

JOHN M. BELK

Top flight facility. Top notch school. An excellent combination of athletics and academics. That's the setting for the women's basketball team at Davidson College. The Baker Sports Complex is the centerpiece of the Wildcats' athletics facilities and the heart of Davidson basketball.

Belk Arena, which seats 5,223 for basketball, has been the Wildcats' home since they started playing again in 1992-93.

In addition to the 5,223-seat John M. Belk Arena, the complex includes the Carl and Louise Knobloch Tennis Center, Cannon Natatorium, Dickson Administrative Wing and Finley Education Center, plus the Charles W. Parker Wrestling Room, a weight room, sports medicine center, four racquetball courts and one squash court. It also houses the athletic department offices.

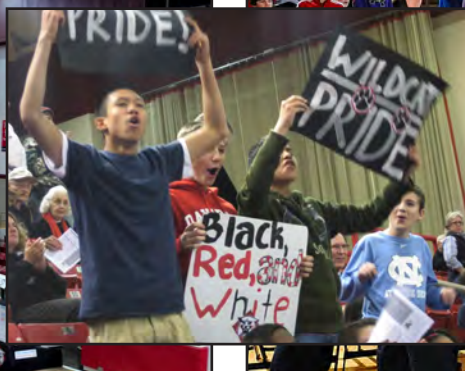

Named in honor of the late John M. Belk '43 — a former captain of the Wildcats' teams, a Davidson College trustee for more than 15 years and former mayor of Charlotte.

In 2011-12, Davidson had its best season ever at home. The Wildcats went a school-record 12-1 and rattled off a seven-game win streak to start the year. It marked the ninth straight winning season on their home court. They have gone 53-19 the past six years in home contests.

AN ENHANCEMENT TO THE BAKER SPORTS COMPLEX

Davidson looks forward to the future for athletics with the new $15,000,000 athletic facility, which is an enhancement to the Baker Sports Complex. Currently Baker Sports Complex welcomes more than 90,000 patrons annually, and the new space features the following:

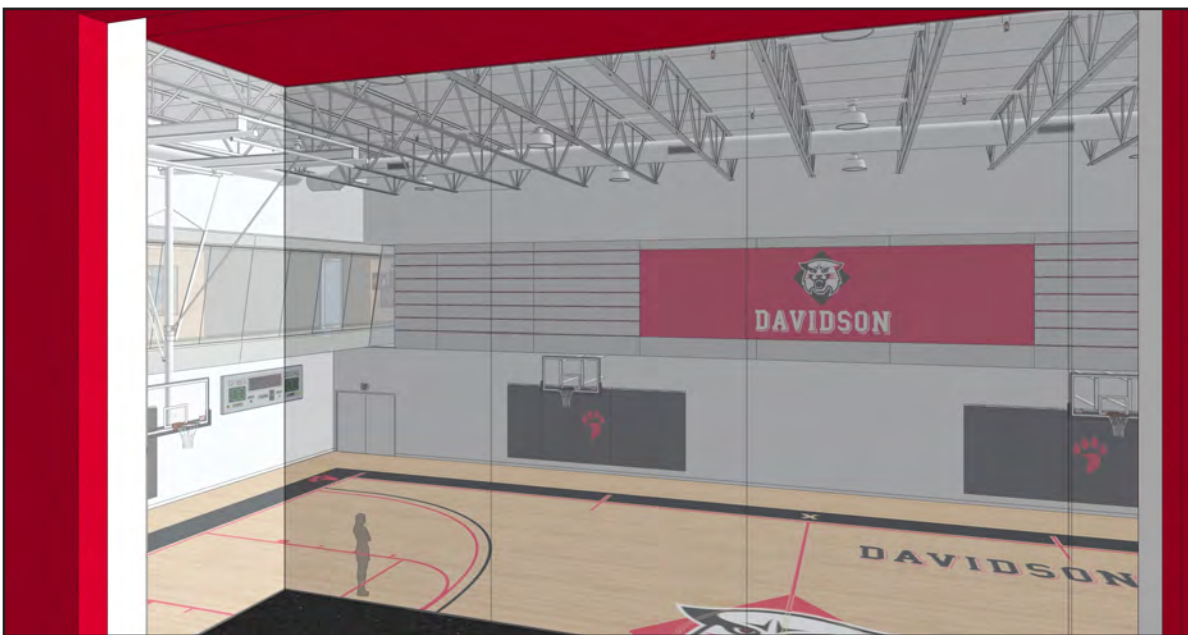

- Practice courts for men's and women's basketball and volleyball
- Locker rooms, team rooms, and film rooms for men's and women's basketball
- Administrative offices for men's and women's basketball
- A dance center with two studios, office space, and storage
- Cardio/fitness room for students, faculty, and staff
- A classroom for health and wellness instruction for students, faculty, and staff
- A new ticket office with internal and external ticket windows
- A new game day main entrance easily accessible from the parking lot

- Expanded Basil Boyd Training Room

Davidson's vibrant athletics community and unwavering commitment to support 21 Division I sports presents immediate cause for a facility of this nature. Additionally, the College's flourishing dance program and engaged club and intramural sports programs add to list of regular consumers of already overused spaces. This facility will have a direct impact on the Davidson student athlete experience — both varsity and otherwise — and will increase access to practice and training facilities. This expansion, in turn, will alleviate scheduling burdens as it relates to space in the Baker Sports Complex, resulting in a more balanced approach to athletics and academics.

THE DIRECT IMPACT

Men's Basketball and Women's basketball and volleyball: Davidson College's men's basketball and women's basketball and volleyball programs currently function with a single game and practice floor. Limited space results in staggered practices for our programs, particularly as the competition seasons overlap. Consequently, our athletes miss dinner, study groups, and opportunities to participate in traditional student activities. Additional court space will remedy these challenges.

Dance: Davidson's new academic Dance Program continues to grow with two studio-based classes offered currently and a third proposed for spring. In addition to full academic dance classes, current dance space is used by Davidson's five active dance organizations: Dance Ensemble, Gamut Student Dance Company, Davidson Dance Team, Shades of Brown step team, and the Swing and Salsa Club. The new center for dance will support our heavily subscribed academic and extracurricular dance activities.

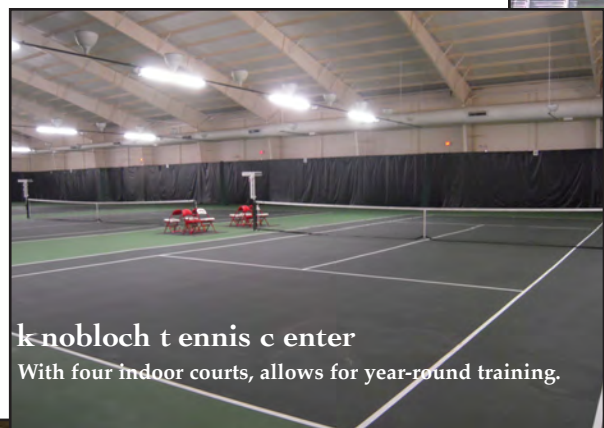

Club Sports and Intramurals: Intramural and club sports, in which over 600 students participate each year, have also suffered as a result of limited indoor court space. Additional gym space would increase student participation by 60%.

DAVIDSON ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Baker Sports Complex

The Baker Sports Complex, completed in 1989, houses all of Davidson's indoor athletic facilities, including the John M. Belk Arena, Knobloch Tennis Center and Cannon Natatorium, as well as the athletic department offices, team locker rooms and the athletic training room.

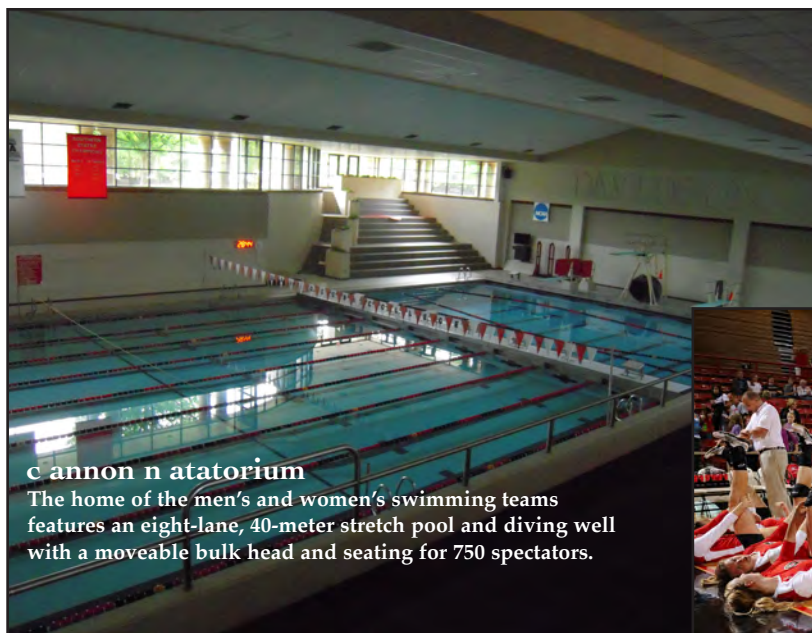

Knobloch Tennis Center

With four indoor courts, allows for year-round training.

Alumni Stadium

Completed in 2004, the $2-million soccer facility includes a new playing surface with a first-class irrigation system, lighting for night games, grandstands, a press box and a new scoreboard. The home of the men's and women's soccer teams also boasts its own clubhouse.

Cannon Natatorium

The home of the men's and women's swimming teams features an eight-lane, 40-meter stretch pool and diving well with a moveable bulk head and seating for 750 spectators.

John M. Belk Arena

Smith Field at Richardson Stadium & Irwin Belk Track

Built in 1924, Richardson Stadium is the 4,500-seat home of Davidson football as well as Doe Weight Room, the Don Bryant press box and several radio booths. Smith Field is ringed by Irwin Belk Track, the top-flight home of Wildcat track and field.

Covington Courts

Features 14 outdoor courts, both hard and clay surfaces.

John M. Belk Arena

Named in honor of John M. Belk '43 — a former Wildcat team captain, Davidson College trustee for more than 15 years and former mayor of Charlotte, Belk Arena is the home of men's and women's basketball, volleyball and wrestling. In 2014, the court was named the Bob McKillop Court in honor of men's basketball head coach Bob McKillop.

Wilson Field

Wildcat baseball opened the 2005 season at Wilson Field, the renovated and renamed facility featuring permanent bleachers, a press box, concession stands and clubhouse. In 2014, a new scoreboard was installed as well as an all-new fence across the entire outfield. In addition, new padding behind home plate and in between the dugouts was also added.

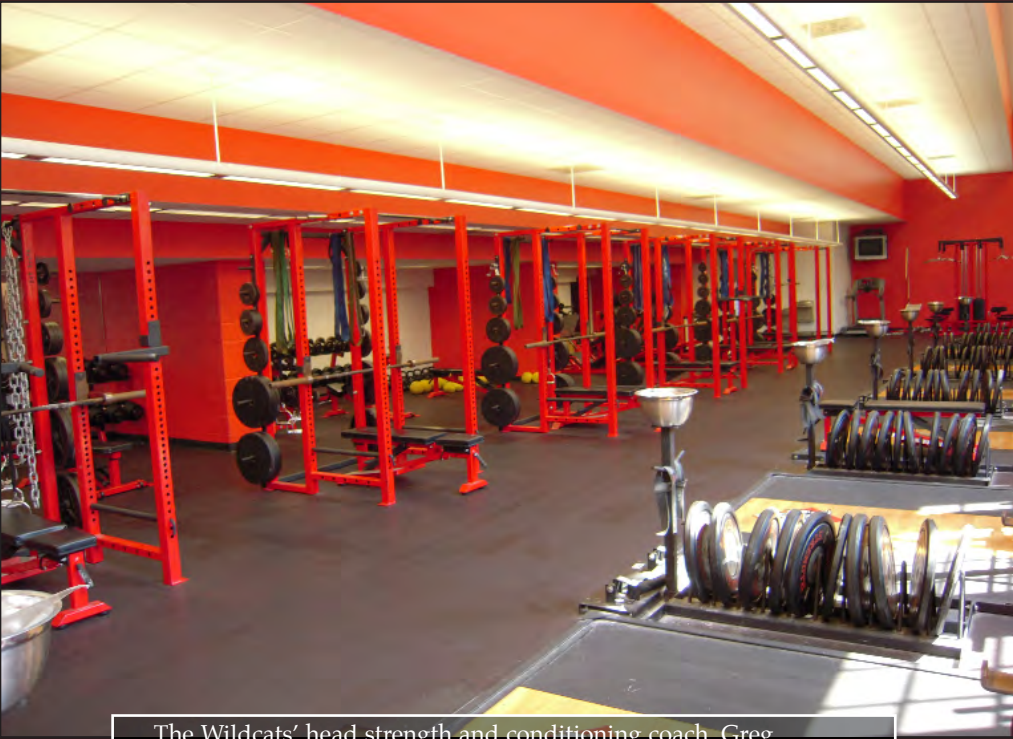

Belk Turf Field

Completed in the fall of 2002, Belk Turf Field is the home of Davidson field hockey.

Charles W. Parker Wrestling Room

Doe Weight Ro

The Wildcats' head strength and conditioning coach, Greg Honeychuck, carries out the goal of Davidson's strength and conditioning program — to increase the strength, power, speed, conditioning levels and flexibility of all student-athletes, helping reduce the risk of injury.

Each team's program, specifically designed by Honeychuck, aims to improve the sport energy utilization system and to increase the strength and power to the primary muscle groups used in that specific sport.

In the fall of 2005, Davidson opened the Ernie Doe Weight Room, a state-of-the-art 5,000-square-foot facility dedicated to the needs of the college's 21 varsity athletic teams. The weight room includes 16 power racks and eight lifting platforms, as well as other cutting-edge lifting and conditioning equipment to train the whole body.

Greg Honeychuck enters the 2015-16 in his second year as Davidson's head strength and conditioning coach for all 21 Wildcat sports.

Prior to taking over Davidson's head strength and conditioning position, Honeychuck joined the South Florida strength and conditioning staff in January of 2011. As associate director, he coordinated and directed strength and conditioning programs for USF's football summer training, while also assisting the program during the regular season. Honeychuck also directed the strength and conditioning programs for baseball and volleyball.

Before working at South Florida, Honeychuck was a graduate assistant and then moved into an assistant strength and conditioning coaching position with the East Carolina Pirates, where he was the coordinator for women's volleyball and assisted with football and baseball.

Honeychuck received his bachelor's degree in 2008 in health science with a minor in coaching from Lock Haven University in Pennsylvania. He went on to earn a master's degree in exercise physiology from East Carolina University in 2010. He also completed internships during his undergrad years at Binghamton University and Penn State University.

Honeychuck is certified from the NSCA-CSCS, CSCCa-SCCC as well as having his Under Armour Combine 360 certification.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

Carol Quillen, Davidson President

Carol Quillen, who was previously the vice president for international and interdisciplinary initiatives at Rice University, became the 18th president of Davidson College on August 1, 2011.

Quillen has had a long and distinguished career at Rice. She joined the faculty as an assistant professor of history in 1990, and she earned promotion to associate professor in 1996. From 2004 to 2008, she served as the first director of Rice's Boniuk Center for the Study and Advancement of Religious Tolerance, leading development of the center's new mission and shaping an agenda that helped distinguish the center from other organizations.

From 2006 to 2010, Quillen served as Rice's vice provost for academic affairs, focusing particularly on developing initiatives that cross academic schools, faculty diversity and faculty development, and resource development. During this time, she worked with faculty to develop and secure funding for a new Center for Asian Studies and a new Institute for Urban Research. She co-chaired the president's diversity task force, and instituted mentoring programs for junior faculty.

As vice president for international and interdisciplinary initiatives, Quillen was responsible for developing and implementing Rice's overall global strategy, which includes research partnerships, recruiting strategies, curricular revision and international opportunities for students. She also facilitates implementation of university-wide initiatives, including the Institute for Urban Research, Rice 360 (a global health effort), and collaborations with Baylor and other institutions within the Texas Medical Center.

James W. Crownover, chair of Rice University's Board of Trustees, said, "It's an honor for Rice that one of ours has been chosen to lead a place as respected as Davidson. She will work hard, and she will succeed there."

Quillen grew up in New Castle, Del., a small town where she says "it was second nature to support the community and look out for other people." A Presbyterian, she attended Quaker schools from pre-kindergarten through high school. She earned a B.A. degree in American history from the University of Chicago, graduating Phi Beta Kappa with special and general honors, then received a Ph.D. degree in European history from Princeton. A humanist whose academic interests include early modern European history, European intellectual history and gender studies, Quillen has written two books on Petrarch, as well as a number of scholarly articles, reviews and papers. She has received a number of teaching awards during her tenure at Rice.

Quillen's daughter, Caitlin, will be a first-year student at the University of North Carolina next fall. Quillen's husband, Ken Kennedy—a computer pioneer who founded the computer science program at Rice—died of pancreatic cancer in 2007. "His greatest gift to me, and to the Rice community, was in living the life he would have chosen," Quillen said. "That's something I think about in a very profound way every day."

At Davidson, Quillen succeeds Tom Ross '72, who announced in August 2010 that he would step down to become president of the University of North Carolina system in January 2011.

Jim Murphy, Director of Athletics

Jim Murphy was introduced as Davidson College's Director of Athletics in November of 1995, returning to his alma mater on the eve of its 100th anniversary of intercollegiate athletics.

Prior, Murphy, 52, served as executive associate athletic director and chief financial officer for the Georgia Tech Athletic Association for 10 years.

The Atlanta native played football and baseball during his freshman year, invaluable experience for guiding a program unique in its desire for excellence in athletics and academics with one of the smallest enrollments among NCAA Division I schools. Davidson's NCAA graduation rate of 91 percent was the highest in Division I in 2001-02, second in 2002-03 with a rate of 97 percent and continues to be above 90 percent each year.

"I firmly believe Davidson represents the ideal in college athletics and think the success of Davidson's students, both in competition and after graduation proves that," Murphy said. "It's true that Davidson needs intercollegiate athletics, but intercollegiate athletics need Davidson even more."

Since Murphy's return, the Wildcats have pursued several major capital projects, including the creation of the innovative $10-million Davidson Scholars Program, and major improvements have been completed in Belk Arena and Smith Field at Richardson Stadium. Murphy has overseen the construction of the Belk Artificial Surface Field, Alumni Stadium, Wilson Field and the football stadium expansion project, including a state-of-the-art weight room, new press box and additional permanent seating.

Murphy, the 2004 NACDA Division I-AA/I-AAA Southeast Region Athletic Director of the Year, served two terms on the prestigious NCAA Division I Management Council. He chaired the Division I-AA Governance Committee and formerly served on the NCAA Division I Business and Finance Cabinet, the Division I Governance Committee and the Division I Finance Committee.

From 2002-04, Murphy chaired the Athletic Directors Association of the Southern Conference. He was part of Charlotte's successful bid to host the NCAA Division I Men's Soccer Championships in 1999 and 2000 and served as Tournament Director of the first and second-round games of the 2005 NCAA Men's Basketball Championship in Charlotte.

A former member of the Division I Football Issues Committee and past president of the Football Championship Subdivision Athletic Directors Association, Murphy was also a member of the NCAA Task Force on Recruiting, an 18-member panel charged with changing the culture of recruiting in intercollegiate athletics, and currently serves on the NCAA's Fiscal Responsibility Oversight Group.

A licensed Certified Public Accountant and 1978 graduate of Davidson with a degree in economics, he earned a Master of Science degree in management from Georgia Tech in 1979. He worked from 1979-85 as an audit manager with the international public accounting firm of KPMG Peat Marwick in Atlanta with responsibility for financial statement audits of public and private companies with up to $1 billion in assets.

Active in the community, Murphy is involved with Social Venture Partners — Charlotte, chairs the Board of Managers of the Lake Norman YMCA, the Board of Directors of the Charlotte Regional Sports Commission, served three years on the Board of the Charlotte Council for Children and three years on the Board of Directors of the Town of Davidson Youth Baseball League.

Murphy is married to Dr. Susan Roberts, a political science professor at Davidson. His 23-year-old son, Matt, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, works in advertising in Chapel Hill, N.C.

Davidson athletic Foundation

The Davidson Athletic Foundation's primary purpose is to raise operating, scholarship and capital funds to support student athletics and the Division I athletic programs of Davidson College. A corollary purpose is to strengthen the broader academic-athletic community of alumni, athletes and coaches, faculty and staff, parents and neighbors through the hosting of events throughout the year and through communications that engage the DAF's external and internal constituencies and complement the DAF's development efforts.

TEAM PICTURE

Michele Savage, the 11th head coach in the 34-year history of Davidson women's basketball, comes to the Wildcats with impeccable credentials as she guides a program that seeks academic and athletic excellence while competing in the tough Southern Conference.

While this is Savage's first experience as a head coach, she's been well trained for success. She was an All-America player at prestigious Northwestern University where she was later inducted into the school's athletic Hall of Fame. She led the Wildcats to the Big Ten championship in 1990 and to two consecutive seasons of more than 20 wins resulting in back-to-back appearances in the NCAA tournament. Her work as a player and assistant coach earned her a spot in the Illinois Sports Hall of Fame in 2008.

Davidson's players are going to be coached by a gifted athlete who shot 60.6 percent from the field at Northwestern, which is a school record. She scored 1,688 points for the Wildcats, claimed 681 rebounds and totaled 200 steals.

Just how special was she as a player? "I knew that if we could successfully recruit Michele to Northwestern that we would be in the running for Big Ten chamsaid. "She played on a powerhouse high school team, was a great student, a quiet leader and came from an absolutely wonderful family. As a player, she was a coach's delight."

Although Savage was consistently Northwestern's team leader in scoring, rebounds and steals, she never displayed any sense of entitlement, Perrelli said.

"She was always one of the first players on the court for practice, and she worked every bit as hard in practice as she did in games," Perrelli said. "She was an inside player who knew her strengths and emphasized them. She was an uncanny scorer close to the basket."

What kind of head coach does Perrelli think Savage will be? "Successful, very much so," he said. "She had a great ability to communicate when she was playing. It's a powerful asset that shouldn't be taken for granted. Many coaches know their X's and O's, but communicating it to the players is a different story. Coming from Northwestern, Michele knows all about being able to merge academics with winning basketball. She will be an excellent coach at Davidson."

"Davidson made an extremely good hire. Michele has done a great job at Tulane bringing in quality student-athletes that succeeded in the classroom and won conference championships. I think she will be highly successful at Davidson."

— Nell Fortner
Head Coach at Auburn

If anything, Savage is somewhat understated in her personality traits. Mary Ciuk, who is an assistant coach on Savage's Davidson staff, was an assistant coach at Northwestern during Savage's entire career there.

"Michele is not an in-your-face kind of person," Ciuk said. "She wasn't that way as a player and won't be as a coach. While she wasn't out to show anyone up, let me tell you that she didn't want to lose to anyone. She was the star player, but she always shared the praise with her teammates."

And what will Savage expect from her players? "For them to be in top physical condition and to be better than good," Ciuk replied.

Savage comes to Davidson after working for nine seasons with head coach Lisa Stockton at Tulane University, an outstanding academic school with excellent women's basketball. Savage was recruiting coordinator, coached post players and prepared scouting reports on opponents during her tenure at Tulane. The Green Wave earned three trips to the NCAA tournament and one to the WNIT in Savage's nine years with the program.

The entire athletic department at Tulane – in fact, the entire university community – had to learn to manage the aftermath of one of the greatest natural disasters in America's history – the devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina in New Orleans, the home of Tulane's campus.

Savage was on the staff there at the time. The women's basketball team was forced to pick up lock, stock and barrel and head to Lubbock, Texas, to attend class and practice on the campus of Texas Tech for the fall semester. It was an experience that Savage will never forget.

"We had 10 players on that particular team," Savage said, "and they were all terrific people. We were a very close group and determined to get through it. We also had the benefit of the Texas Tech people giving us so much help and kindness. I can never say enough about how wonderful they were to us, and that includes their fans."

Remarkably, Tulane's women's basketball team endured that difficult year and still produced a winning season. As with most good discoveries, serendipity was in play in bringing Savage to Davidson. Davidson was committed to a national search for its new women's basketball coach, which occurred.

"We attracted a remarkable number of talented coaches that were interested in the position," Athletic Director Jim Murphy said. "Davidson's name and reputation, along with our success in men's basketball, certainly contributed to it."

So did Murphy's experience and good memory. Lisa Stockton was an assistant coach at Georgia Tech when Murphy served there as executive associate athletic director and chief financial officer for the Georgia Tech Athletic Association. Murphy was so impressed with Stockton's work at Georgia Tech that he continued to follow her career as Tulane's head coach. When it was time to seek a head coach for Davidson's women's program, talking to Stockton was a natural. Stockton was thinking along the same lines, because she called Murphy to tell him about one of her bright and talented assistant coaches – Michele Savage. She was ready to be a head coach, Stockton said.

Unlike many schools, Davidson doesn't use an external search committee to find head coaches. Instead, once the college decides on which coaches to bring in for a campus visit, those candidates visit with

"Davidson has an outstanding coach in Michele Savage. Michele played a big role in the success we have had here at Tulane. Her loyalty and commitment to the people she works with and the players she coaches is to be commended. Michele is an excellent recruiter and teacher because of the relationships and trust she builds with young people. I truly believe Michele will take Davidson Women's Basketball to new heights."

pionships," said Don Perrelli, Savage's head coach at Northwestern. "She was more than special; she was number one on the list of players that we felt like we had to recruit."

Perrelli, who coached Northwestern for 15 seasons, watched Savage in high school at Immaculate Heart of Mary in Westchester, Ill.

"She was one of the top 15 women high school players in the country," Perrelli

"Michele Savage is an outstanding coach. She is the perfect fit for Davidson. She is highly respected in our profession. She understands academic and athletic integrity. She has a tremendous understanding of the game and her players will learn so much from her."

all college constituencies: the president, faculty representatives, other coaches and team members. It gives the college and the candidate a great chance to get to know each other.

Murphy saw Savage hit a home run in her visit. He had already studied and been impressed by her student years at Northwestern and her assistant coaching tenures at Chicago State, Toledo, Cornell and then Tulane. Savage's experience qualified her uniquely to understand the culture of Davidson's academics and athletics.

"Michele knows what it's like to recruit to a school with a high academic profile," Murphy said.

After this thorough getting-to-know-each-other visit, Savage became the first African-American women's basketball head coach at Davidson.

One of Davidson's returning players, senior Ashley Lax from Little Rock, Ark., was impressed after meeting Savage for the first time.

"She is soft-spoken and gentle in her speech," Lax said, "but we listen when she talks. We can tell that she's excited to be here."

Davidson sophomore Sophia Aleksandravicius first met Savage when the coaching candidate met with the basketball team. Her first impression of Coach Savage? "She leads by her presence and doesn't feel like she has to yell to get her point across. But all of us know very well that she doesn't like to lose."

Savage's outlook on basketball is working hard and trying not to make the sport more complicated than it is. She's a realist and knows that her team is not always going to have the most talented players on the court. But even then, she says, winning is possible.

"I want our team to compete in every single game," she says. "Teams that work hard and are fundamentally sound are hard to beat. We can control those things, and I expect us to."

Savage has a little old-school about her that is appealing. Trash talking is not a part of her DNA.

"It's not what you say, but what you do that counts," Savage said. "We will stress that with our players."

Make no mistake that a raging competitive fire burns inside this soft-spoken, understated coach. She has the ability to focus on the moment.

"I enjoy a win a lot," she said, "and I want our players to enjoy a win while understanding that we don't bask in it. Tomorrow is a new day."

Savage says she's learned something from every coach she's played for and worked with. Her defensive philosophy is to keep opponents from getting comfortable by making them play against combination man-to-man and zone defenses.

She will know more about this team's strengths as the season progresses.

But early on she saw a team that had length and size, which might lead to more zone blended with some sagging man-to-man. And when the Wildcats press this season, it might well be more zone press than straight man-to-man, all-over-the-court pressure.

Coaches learn from their experiences. Savage's playing career at Northwestern saw her play close to the basket, hit a high percentage of her shots, and get to the foul line. She plans to incorporate the inside game as an important part of her Davidson offense. Certainly, she understands the importance of the 3-point shot in today's college basketball, but she doesn't believe that her team has to shoot 20 or more of those shots every game. She values good shot selection as a vital part of winning basketball.

Like every major college basketball coach, Savage wants her team to play in the NCAA tournament. The path to successfully reaching that goal, she believes, is to win consistently in the conference.

"If we can compete and win consistently in our league, that ought to help prepare us to have a chance in the NCAA tournament," she said. "I like what I see from our players this year, from our seniors to the freshmen. I love Davidson, the atmosphere here and everything about it. Our players are energetic and excited and want to prove themselves."

Savage knows that no matter how well she coaches, getting good players is key to success. It's that way everywhere. She likes recruiting and enjoys the challenge that Davidson presents: recruiting the best academically and athletically.

She enjoys watching basketball and talking with prospects one-on-one. The high numbers of players who end up transferring in college basketball convince her that it's absolutely necessary for the coach and player to get to know each other well. She was a highly-recruited player herself and recalls what she liked and didn't like about the process.

"When a coach and prospect sit down one-on-one, indelible impressions are left," Savage said. "I recall when I was being recruited that sometimes when a coach left our house, I'd say, 'I don't think I could play for that particular coach.' There were about 175 players in Division 1 that transferred last year. It's important for my assistant coaches and me to get to know the young women that we're recruiting, and for them to know us equally as well."

While Savage went on to become a high school and college basketball star, it was not a given. Basketball was not first on her childhood horizon. Music was. Her father is a gifted and versatile musician and Michele took after him. She was a talented young pianist and didn't take up basketball until she was 12 years old, at the urging of a gym teacher.

"Michele started out in music," said her mother, Mary Savage, of Douglasville, Ga. "But when she started with basketball, it was apparent that she was talented."

So talented, in fact, that when McKinley Middle School in Illinois didn't have a girls' basketball team, Michele became the only girl on the boys' team in seventh-grade.

Joe Savage, Mary's father, was a band director in the Chicago public school system. He still plays at his Georgia church and is expert at several instruments, including piano, flute and trumpet. He also had a keen knack for teaching music.

"Michele was a very good classical pianist," Mr. Savage said, "and she continues to play even now."

Joe and Mary were strict in wanting the best education possible for Michele. It was stressed in their home and with obvious success. One doesn't win a basketball scholarship to Northwestern University unless she's an accomplished student.

"I am enthusiastic about Michele getting this chance to be a head coach at Davidson," Mr. Savage said. "She has many previous experiences that will help her succeed there. She is a demanding person who has high standards for herself and will also have them for her players."

Told how impressed people are with Coach Savage's ability to get her point across in a quiet demeanor, Mr. Savage laughed and observed.

"Yes, that's true about Michele. But this is also true about her: she can turn it on when she needs to."

Father knows best.

On May 28, 2010, Davidson College Athletic Director Jim Murphy announced the hiring of Michele Savage as the head coach for the Wildcat women's basketball program. She is the 11th head coach in the program's 34-year history.

The 2014-15 season marked a new era for the women's basketball program as Savage, in her fifth season, helped Davidson usher in its first year in the Atlantic 10. The Wildcats won their first-ever A-10 game on the road with a 53-50 win at Saint Louis to open the month of January. It would be the only win though in league play, as they went 1-15 in their first year and 5-25 overall. The 'Cats played 10 new opponents during the campaign, with nine of them being from the A-10.

Savage helped the program win its 400th game in its 36th season with a road win at Gardner-Webb, Nov. 20, 2014. The victory also marked her 75th career win at Davidson.

Under the guidance of Savage, junior Hannah Early became the 17th player in program history to reach 1,000 career points as she accomplished the feat during the 2014-15 season. It was the fourth time a player had reached the 1,000-point mark during Savage's tenure. Early also went on to set a single season record for three-pointers with 74. Freshman Mackenzie Latt had a great debut season for Savage, earning a spot on the A-10 All-Freshman Team, while earning two A-10 Rookie of the Week awards. Fellow classmate Saadia Tipton also earned an A-10 Rookie of the Week award during the season. Davidson as a team tied the single game record for blocks with 12 in a 76-57 home win over High Point.

In Davidson's final season in the Southern Conference, Savage, in her fourth year, coached the Wildcats to a third place finish with an 11-7 record and a 16-16 mark overall in 2013-14. They reached the SoCon Championship game for the second year in a row, falling to Chattanooga.

Savage collected her 50th career SoCon victory at UNCG, Feb. 8, 2014. She moved into second place in program history in league wins, finishing with 52. Davidson as a team tied the single season record for three-pointers with 180. It reached the 10-win plateau for the 11th time in the past 12 years in SoCon victories and had a seven-game home SoCon win streak that spanned from the end of the 2012-13 season into the first three league games of the 2013-14 campaign.

For the second year in a row, Savage saw one of the players in program history become its all-time scoring leader when Laura Murray hit her last bucket in the SoCon Final to set the record with 1,880 points, surpassing Sophia Aleksandravicius, who set the record the year before. Under Savage, Murray also became the program's all-time leader in made and attempted three-pointers and field goals attempted. In addition, the guard's senior season saw her set the single-season Wildcat record for points with 617, field goals attempted and free throws attempted.

Savage coached three all-league players in 2013-14, starting with Murray, who was a first team pick by both the coaches and the media. Dakota Dukes was also named to the first team by the coaches and teamed with Hannah Early on the second team for the media squad. The pair of Murray and Dukes were named to the SoCon All-Tournament First Team, with Murray becoming the first player in program history to earn the feat three times. She also joined Aleksandravicius as the only two players to earn All-SoCon First Team by the coaches.

Savage guided the Wildcats to their second straight 20-win campaign in 2012-13, as they followed up one of their best seasons in program history with yet another strong year. Davidson finished 22-13 overall and finished second in the Southern Conference with a 16-4 record. The 'Cats' 22 wins were tied for the second-most in program history. They rode their outstanding season all the way to the conference tournament championship game, before falling to Chattanooga in a last-second affair. It was just the second time in program history Davidson had reached the final.

The Wildcats' season did not end there as they earned their second straight post-season appearance, and third overall, with a bid into the Women's NIT. They made history winning the program's first post-season game, taking home a first round victory on the road at Old Dominion, 83-72.

Savage coached arguably the best player in program history in two-time SoCon Player and Defender of the Year Sophia Aleksandravicius. The senior broke seven all-time records during her three years under Savage, while being named to the coaches and media's all-league first team three times. Aleksandravicius capped off her career by being named the SoCon Female Athlete of the Year, the first female from Davidson to earn the honor. She was also earned the Davidson athletic department's Rebecca A. Stimson Award as the top female student-athlete at the school.

Also during 2012-13, Savage saw Laura Murray become the 16th Wildcat to score over 1,000 career points and earn a spot on the All-SoCon First Team by the coaches and second team by the media. Murray and Aleksandravicius were both named to the SoCon All-Tournament First Team. Dakota Dukes was named to the league's all-freshman team. February 9 was a special day for Savage as she collected her 50th career coaching win at Davidson in a 56-49 road victory at Appalachian State.

In 2012-13, Davidson set a school record with an eight-game road overall win streak, all against SoCon foes. The eight-game SoCon streak tied a school record set from 2005-06 and 2006-07.

The 2011-12 season saw Savage guide the Wildcats to one of their best seasons in program history. They captured the program's first Southern Conference regular season title with a school-best mark of 17-3, while the 'Cats' 22 wins were second-most in school history. Davidson also set a school mark for home wins (12-1) and road wins (9-8), while it earned the program's 350th win during the season.

For all her accomplishments, Savage was honored by the coaches and media as she was named the 2011-12 SoCon Coach of the Year. She is the second coach in Wildcat history to garner the media's top coach, while she is the first to be coach of the year in the coaches all-league team. Davidson's trip to the Women's NIT was the program's second-ever bid into post-season play.

In addition, Savage coached the league's Player and Defender of the Year in Sophia Aleksandravicius.

Savage's first season, 2010-11, saw Davidson go 14-17 overall and sport an 8-12 campaign in the Southern Conference. The first-year head coach led the 'Cats to their first league tournament win since 2007 with a 69-53 victory against College of Charleston. They also nearly pulled off an upset of No. 1-seeded Appalachian State in the quarterfinals, before falling 73-63. Savage coached the SoCon Freshman of the Year in Laura Murray and saw Sophia Aleksandravicius earn a spot on both the coaches and media All-SoCon First Team, while also pick up first-team all-state honors.

During the regular season, Savage led Davidson to the program's fourth in-season tournament title when the Wildcats captured the UTSA Thanksgiving Tournament with the program's first-ever wins over North Texas and UTSA, Nov. 26-27. The 'Cats also had their 10th straight winning season at home, going 8-5.

A Street & Smith's All-American during her playing days at Northwestern, Savage came to Davidson after serving as an assistant coach at Tulane University from 2001-10. While at Tulane, Savage's duties touched all areas of the program as she coached the Green Wave post players on a day-to-day basis and worked with recruiting, directing Tulane's scouting efforts and overseeing the team's academic progress. She was the women's basketball program's liaison with the athletic department's marketing and game management units among many other responsibilities.

During her nine years at Tulane, the Green Wave twice hit the 26-win plateau and reached the NCAA Tournament in 2002, 2003 and 2010. The 2009-10 season saw Tulane go 26-7, earn the Conference USA regular-season title and earn an automatic bid to the postseason after winning the C-USA Tournament. Savage helped lead Tulane to two Conference USA regular-season titles and a Women's NIT bid in 2007.

She helped develop several top Green Wave players who were selected by USA Today for All-American Honorable Mention as well as several first-team Conference USA players. In addition, she had the chance to coach two players, Teana McKiver and Gwen Blaughter, who went on to play in the WNBA.

The Illinois native came to Tulane after two seasons as an assistant coach at Cornell University (1999-00 & 2000-01). She helped the Big Red achieve its best season in school history while signing three players who earned honorable mention All-America honors in high school - two from New York and one from New Mexico. Her specific duties included coordinating Cornell's recruiting efforts and supervising the skill development and workouts of the post players.

Prior to her arrival at Cornell, Savage spent the 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons as an assistant coach at Toledo, where she coached the post players and served as recruiting coordinator. She helped guide the Rockets to a Mid-American Conference championship and a No. 25 ranking. In 1998-99, Toledo advanced to the NCAA Tournament as a No. 6 seed, and its star player, Kim Knuth, the two-time Mid-America Conference Player of the Year, was named honorable mention All-America.

Before coaching at Toledo, Savage spent two seasons at Chicago State University.

Savage graduated from Northwestern University in 1993 after a standout career with the Wildcats. A three-time All-Big Ten selection, she was a Kodak All-District choice in 1990, 1991 and 1992 and earned All-America recognition from Street & Smith's in 1991. She helped lead the Wildcats to the 1990 Big Ten Championship and to appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 1990 and 1991 as NU posted 20-plus wins both years.

One of the top 15 players in the nation as a high school senior, she led Northwestern in scoring three times and was also the team's top rebounder in 1990 and 1991. Her career field goal percentage of .606 is still a school record as is her .652 single-season mark from 1990. Savage scored in double figures in 25 straight games as a junior and had a 23-game double-figure scoring streak in her senior season. Savage was inducted in the Northwestern Hall of Fame in 2002 and the Illinois Hall of Fame in 2008.

Ivy League Rookie of the Year and four Ivy All-Rookie team selections.

For 11 seasons, Ciuk was an assistant coach at Northwestern, where she helped guide the Wildcats to four NCAA Tournament appearances, the Big Ten championship in 1990 and a 189-122 record. During the summer of 1993, she served as an assistant coach for the Big Ten All-Star team that toured through Australia and New Zealand. As Northwestern's recruiting coordinator, Ciuk assembled five recruiting classes that were ranked in the top-10 nationally. One of those classes included Savage as Ciuk coached her during her playing career at Northwestern.

A 1980 graduate of Southern Connecticut State, Ciuk earned a bachelor of science degree in Physical Education and played four years on the basketball team. The Owls posted a 57-28 mark and qualified for three AIAW national tournaments during Ciuk's playing career.

Following graduation, Ciuk was an assistant basketball coach at the University of Florida while earning a master's degree in Athletic Administration.

Ciuk begins her sixth season with Davidson after an eight-year tenure at Massachusetts. She oversees the academic aspects of the team and helps perimeter player development as well as working on the marketing side of promoting the program.

Ciuk came to Davidson after spending eight seasons as part of the UMass staff, with the last four years holding the title of Associate Head Coach. Ciuk's primary responsibilities at UMass included scouting of opponents and coordinating the recruiting efforts.

Prior to her time at UMass, Ciuk was at Cornell where she helped the Big Red to their first two winning seasons in the Ivy League with 8-6 records in 2001 and 2002. There, she helped cultivate 10 all-league players, two academic All-Ivy picks, one Beginning her first year as assistant coach with the Davidson women's basketball program is Shannon Gholar. She comes to Davidson after a two-year stint at Vermont as an assistant coach under head coach Lori Gear McBride.

"Shannon is an excellent addition to our staff," said head coach Michele Savage. "She has an unbelievable work ethic and a very high basketball IQ. She brings high energy and a passion to recruit the best student-athletes in the country. We're very excited to have her join the Davidson women's basketball family."

While at Vermont, Gholar oversaw the recruiting aspect of the program in organizing campus, official and home visits, as well as initial prospect evaluation. She also worked with the guards in their development.

Prior to her time at Vermont, Gholar was a graduate assistant at Arizona State for two years where she worked under Charli Turner Thorne. She assisted the Sun Devils in many aspects of the program from skill workouts and recruiting to game management and marketing of the team.

Gholar, a native of Monrovia, Calif., began her collegiate career at Cal Poly San Louis Obispo where she was a guard for two seasons. She finished out the final two years playing at Cal State San Bernardino.

She earned a bachelor's degree from Cal State San Bernardino in 2011 and completed her master's degree in higher education at Arizona State in 2013.

Early Sets Wildcat Single-Season Three-point Record

First Year in the Atlantic 10

Latt Records 11 Double-doubles

'Cats Earn First-ever A-10
Win at Saint Louis

Savage Hits 75 Career Wins

Early Reaches 1,000
Career Points

The 2014-15 season marked a new era for the Davidson women's basketball program as they entered the program's 36th year. The Wildcats moved to the Atlantic 10, seeing new opponents and new places.

Individually, Hannah Early became the program's latest 1,000 point scorer and set a few records along the way. Freshman Mackenzie Latt had an outstanding debut season, earning All A-10 Freshmen Team honors.

Below are just a few of the Wildcat highlights throughout the campaign.

Welcome to the Atlantic 10

The Atlantic 10 Conference officially welcomed Davidson College as its 14th member Tuesday, July 1, 2014, just over one year after the A-10 Council of Presidents unanimously voted to formally accept the school's application for membership. A prestigious private institution in Davidson, N.C., the Wildcat athletic program sponsors 19 of the Atlantic 10's 21 championship sports.

Making History, First-Ever A-10 Win

Davidson made history, Jan. 18, at Saint Louis, when it scored the program's first-ever Atlantic 10 win, 53-50. Both teams were playing each other for the first time.

The Wildcats overcame a 41-31 deficit by running off a 16-2 spurt that gave it a brief 47-43 lead. The 'Cats used the three-ball to assist them in getting back in it, canning three of their six second-half three-pointers during the run.

Then after SLU's Jamesia Price scored seven straight points to give the Billikens a 50-49 lead, Davidson came right back and got an offensive rebound by Dakota Dukes, who hit the go-ahead basket on a putback for a 51-50 lead and 35 seconds left.

The 'Cats turned up the defense on SLU's next possession, forcing a turnover with six seconds to go and Hannah Early sealed the win by make a pair of free throws for the programs first A-10 triumph.

Early led all scorers with 17 points, getting 15 of them from behind the arc. Alex Long and Dakota Dukes each had 10 points.

Home Opener Spoiled By Southern Cal

In the program's 36-year history, the Wildcats are 16-18 overall in home openers (two of the year's results are incomplete). They started the 2014-15 season at home with a 99-64 defeat to Pac-12 foe Southern California, Nov. 17. Despite putting four players in double figures, Davidson was unable shake off a 28-turnover contest that saw USC score 42 points off those miscues.

Davidson is 6-4 the last 10 years in home openers, falling to 3-2 in the past five years under head coach Michele Savage.

Congrats on Win No. 400 & 75!

The Davidson women's basketball program, which is in its 36th season, reached the 400-win mark, Nov. 20, with a 68-67 road win at Gardner-Webb. During their history, the 'Cats have won 20-plus games three times (23 in 2006-07, 22 in 2011-12, 22 in 2012-13). In addition, Davidson has won at least 15 games in a year 12 times, while reaching the double-digit mark in wins 19 times overall.

It was also a special night at Gardner-Webb for head coach Michele Savage, who won her 75th career game at Davidson. She is third all-time in career wins behind John Filar (102) and Annette Watts (144).

Block Party

The Wildcats turned in a very impressive defense effort vs. High Point, Nov. 25. They ended up tying a single-game school record with 12 blocks on their way to a 19-point win.

Four different players had two blocks each, including Alex Long, Lillian McCabe and Rachel Piles who each tied their career highs.

The record of 12 blocks in a game was set back in 1996 at home against Western Carolina, Jan. 13.

Latt Earns All-10 All-Rookie Team Honors

Freshman Mackenzie Latt capped off her impressive first year by earning one of the five spots on the Atlantic 10 All-Rookie Team.

The Kalamazoo, Mich., native shined in her first year with the Wildcats, twice earning A-10 Rookie of the Week accolades. Latt finished the season averaging 11.6 points, second on the team, and pacing the 'Cats with an 8.2 rebounding average. Her rebounding average ranked third in the A-10, while she also finished in the top-10 in defensive (5.7 per game, fifth) and offensive (2.5, 10th) rebounds.

The freshman recorded 11 double-doubles on the year, including seven of them against A-10 foes. Her double-double total was fifth-most in a Wildcat single season since 1992-93. Latt also scored in double figures 20 times during the year, with a season-high 21 points at Gardner-Webb in just her third collegiate game. She added a season-best 15 rebounds in the Wildcats' win on the road.

During the regular season, Latt led the team in rebounding 16 times, while pacing it in scoring nine times overall.

Welcome to the 1,000-Point Club

Junior Hannah Early became the newest member of the 1,000-point club as she reached the milestone mark Wednesday at UMass, Feb. 18. On her second three-pointer of th game, the sharp-shooting junior eclipsed 1,000 points on her way to 18 for the game.

Early will became the 17th player in program history to reach the 1,000-point mark. It also marked the eighth year in the past nine a Wildcat has scored 1,000 points for their career.

Single-Season 3-Point Mark Set

Besides reaching the 1,000 career points mark, Hannah Early set a new Wildcat single-season record for three-pointers at St. Bonaventure, Feb. 21. With her trey in the first half, she broke a tie with Ashley Lax's record of 66 set in 2008-09 for her 67th shot from long range. She went on to finish with 74 on the season, good for third-most in the Atlantic 10.

Early's six attempts pushed her season total to 191 on the year, also a new single season mark, passing Laura Murray and Jenna Magette who each had 178 in 2012-13 and 2001-02, respectively.

First Time Opponents

Last year, Davidson facing some unfamiliar foes. The Wildcats played 10 new schools for the first time, with nine of those opponents coming against Atlantic 10 opponents La Salle, Dayton, VCU, Saint Louis, Fordham, George Washington, George Mason, Massachusetts and St. Bonaventure.

Early & Latt Garner All-Tournament Team Honors

Hannah Early and Mackenzie Latt represented Davidson on the Holiday Inn University Area Cavalier Classic All-Tournament Team, Dec. 29-30.

Early helped guide the Wildcats to a big 10-point win over Virginia by scoring a season-high 24 points, canning a career-best six three-balls on 13 attempts, which set a Wildcat single-game school record. She followed up with an 18-point outing against Miami (Ohio) the next day, helping the Wildcats stay close with 14 second-half points in a 59-58 defeat. Early also combined for 14 rebounds, nine vs. Virginia, five steals, four assists and three blocks in the two games.

Latt filled the box score up with three points, four rebounds, three assists, and a block and steal each in the win vs. Virginia. The freshman then went 6-of-9 from the floor vs. the Redhawks for 12 points and added six rebounds.

In-Season Tournaments

The Wildcats improved to 27-36 in regular-season tournament play since the 1992-93 season when women's basketball returned to Davidson after going 1-1 at the Holiday Inn University Area Cavalier Classic host by Virginia, Dec. 29-30.

The Wildcats scored a big 67-57 win against host Virginia to start the classic, before falling to Miami (Ohio) the next

Seven Straight vs. the Runnin' Bulldogs

The Wildcats kept their winning ways going in the all-time series vs. Gardner-Webb. They collected their seventh straight victory in the series and tied it up at 7-all Thursday, Nov. 20, with another close triumph, 68-67. The last three wins for the 'Cats have all been decided by a combined eight points.

A game that featured seven ties and 12 lead changes, it all came down to the final minute of play. Mackenzie Latt hit the tying and game-winning buckets to cap off her outstanding night. She registered 21 points and 15 rebounds to go with five assists and three blocks.

Davidson was up just two, 68-66, when Gardner-Webb hit a free throw to make it a one-point advantage with 44 seconds left. The Runnin' Bulldogs had a chance to tie or win it with two seconds left, but missed both of their free throws and time expired on the loose ball rebound.

Latt Tabbed Davidson's First A-10 Rookie of the Week, Nov. 24

Coming off an impressive three-game week, freshman Mackenzie Latt was tabbed the first Davidson women's basketball Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Week as announced by the league office Monday, Nov. 24. She joined Fordham's Emily Tapio as the conference's players of the week for Nov. 17-24.

In addition, the Wildcat freshman was named the A-10 College Sports Madness Player of the Week.

A native of Kalamazoo, Mich., Latt helped guide Davidson to a 2-1 record last week by nearly averaging a double-double. The freshman paced the team for the week by averaging 17 points and nine rebounds, while dishing out seven assists and blocking five shots. She also registered her second and third double-doubles already of the season in wins at Gardner-Webb, Nov. 20, and home against Mount St. Mary's, Nov. 23.

McCabe Has Career Day vs. James Madison

Senior Lillian McCabe did her best to keep the Wildcats close against the James Madison Dukes, Dec. 7, in a 73-57 defeat at home.

McCabe reached the 20-point mark for the first time in her career with an even 20, getting 12 of them in the second half. The shooting guard hit a career-high six field goals in eight attempts and tied a personal best by swishing home 4-of-5 three-pointers. She capped off the scoring outburst with a 4-for-5 performance at the free-throw line.

In addition, McCabe pulled in a career-best six rebounds.

Davidson College Joins Atlantic 10 Conference

DAVIDSON, N.C. – Davidson College officially joined the Atlantic 10 Conference, July 1, 2014, as announced by the league as well as President Carol Quillen. Davidson had released a statement May 8, 2013 it would be joining the A-10 for the 2014-15 season.

"Davidson is thrilled to join the Atlantic 10 Conference to compete alongside some of the most dynamic Division I student-athletes in the country," Quillen said. "Our athletic teams – from men's basketball to women's lacrosse, from men's swimming to women's tennis – are ready for this new opportunity and we have the greatest confidence they will succeed."

According to most recent NCAA graduation rates, the Atlantic 10 ranked second among all Division I conferences, with 90 percent of their student-athletes graduating.

"The Atlantic 10 is a conference that gives Davidson the opportunity to be associated with and compete against institutions with significant profiles, both academically and athletically, while we continue to establish our national brand. This is a great opportunity to use athletics to further the goals and objectives of the college as we enhance the experience of our students," said Director of Athletics Jim Murphy.

The geographic footprint of the Atlantic 10 Conference covers eight different states and the District of Columbia for a total population of 75.3 million people (2010 Census). The move will allow 19 of Davidson's 21 sports to compete in the A-10, with the exception of football and wrestling. Football will remain in the Pioneer Football League which hosts non-scholarship programs, while wrestling will seek to continue its affiliation with the Southern Conference.

Davidson had been a member of the Southern Conference, which it first joined in 1936, before announcing its move to the A-10.

"Davidson is an ideal fit for the Atlantic 10 – as a nationally recognized academic institution complimented by excellence in a broad-based athletic program – the Wildcats will be competitive immediately. Their success in men's basketball is important, bringing another nationally recognized brand into the league," stated A-10 Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade. "It is my pleasure to welcome Davidson's administration, their student-athletes, staff, alumni and fans to the Atlantic 10 Conference. They will maintain our presence in the Charlotte market, one of the top 25 media markets in the country, and reinforce our commitment to national prominence in men's basketball."

Atlantic 10 Officially Welcomes Davidson College

NEWPORT NEWS, Va.— The Atlantic 10 Conference officially welcomed Davidson College as its 14th member Tuesday, just over one year after the A-10 Council of Presidents unanimously voted to formally accept the school's application for membership. A prestigious private institution in Davidson, N.C., the Wildcat athletic program sponsors 19 of the Atlantic 10's 21 championship sports.

Located just north of Charlotte within the Atlantic 10 footprint, the Wildcats have a tradition of excellence in intercollegiate athletics led by men's basketball, a successful women's basketball program and strong Olympic sports programs. Consistently ranked in the top ten of the best Liberal Arts schools in the United States, Davidson's academic programs are among the best in the nation.

"All of us in the Atlantic 10 are delighted to add such an academically distinguished and athletically competitive institution to our conference," Chair of the A-10 Council of Presidents and President of The George Washington University Dr. Steven Knapp said in May of 2013 regarding the announcement that Davidson would join the Atlantic 10.

Davidson has made 11 appearances in the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship, including five since 2002. The Wildcats, behind long-time coach Bob McKillop and All-American sharpshooter Stephen Curry, made a run to the 2008 Elite Eight. Additionally, 10 Olympic sports in the A-10 have automatic qualifying (AQ) status for the NCAA Championships. The league has also earned six at-large Olympic-sport selections to the NAAs in the last two years. Davidson has a history of success in Olympic sports, including a run to the men's soccer College Cup.

A hallmark of the Atlantic 10 Conference is its academic reputation. The league ranks second among all Division I conferences in the most recent NCAA graduation rates (GSR) with an incredible 90 percent of student-athletes graduating. Davidson had 14 teams achieve perfect GSR rates last fall and nearly all of its teams achieved a 990 or better in the Academic Progress Rate (APR).

The move will also allow Davidson to have a home for its swimming & diving, field hockey and women's lacrosse programs within the school's primary conference affiliation in the A-10. This affords the Wildcat programs the opportunity to grow the brand recognition for those sports and contributes to the overall success of the Davidson athletics.

It was a new era for most of Davidson College sports as it moved to the Atlantic 10 for the 2014-15 after a 74-year run in the Southern Conference (1936-88, 1991-2013).

"Davidson is thrilled to join the Atlantic 10 Conference to compete alongside some of the most dynamic Division I student-athletes in the country," Quillen said. "Our athletic teams – from men's basketball to women's lacrosse, from men's swimming to women's tennis – are ready for this new opportunity and we have the greatest confidence they will succeed."

According to most recent NCAA graduation rates, the Atlantic 10 ranked second among all Division I conferences, with 90 percent of their student-athletes graduating.

The geographic footprint of the Atlantic 10 Conference covers eight different states and the District of Columbia for a total population of 75.3 million people (2010 Census).

The move allows 19 of Davidson's 21 sports to compete in the A-10, with the exception of football and wrestling. Football will remain in the Pioneer Football League which hosts non-scholarship programs, while wrestling will seek to continue its affiliation with the Southern Conference.

The Atlantic 10 office is located in Newport News, Va. and has 14 members after Davidson joined for the 2014-15 season.

On March 2, 1975, the idea of what is now the Atlantic 10

Conference was conceived. What started as an eight-school, men's basketball only affiliation has grown into a 14-university, 21-sport league that is universally hailed as one of the best conferences in the country. That growth and prominence is a direct result of the ideals and commitments of the member institutions of the Atlantic 10 – The University of Dayton, Duquesne University, Fordham University, George Mason University, The George Washington University, La Salle University, University of Massachusetts, University of Rhode Island, University of Richmond, St. Bonaventure University, Saint Joseph's University, Saint Louis University and Virginia Commonwealth University. The league added one more to its ranks in 2014 when Davidson College became the 14th institution to join.

The A-10

The Atlantic 10 Conference, with a total population of over 76.5 million people within its geographic footprint of eight states and the District of Columbia, crown champions in 21 sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's golf, women's lacrosse, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track & field, women's rowing, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

The presidents and chancellors of Atlantic 10 institutions, in conjunction with Atlantic 10 Commissioner Bernadette V. McGlade, have made a strong commitment to making the academic and athletics equation a successful one. Over the years, the league membership has strived to better recognize the academic accomplishments of its student-athletes. The Commissioner's Honor Roll, which cites every Atlantic 10 student-athlete with a 3.5 grade point average or better, recognized 3,029 student-athletes in 2014-15, a record for a 14-team A-10. The league sponsors Academic All-Conference teams in each of its sports and honors two student-athletes as the A-10 Scholar-Athletes of the Year. Moreover, the Atlantic 10 provides $70,000 in postgraduate scholarships awards to 14 student-athletes, one from each campus.

The Atlantic 10 Conference annually earns high marks in the NCAA Academic metrics. This includes graduating its student-athletes at an 89 percent rate according to the NCAA's most recent Graduation Success Rate (GSR) figures, five percentage points higher than the national average. There were 90 A-10 teams with a perfect 1000 GSR score in the NCAA's 2014 most recent report. The league also had an average Academic Progress Rate (APR) of 985 in 2015, seven points higher than the national average. A record 60 teams were singled out for public recognition for their APR scores by the NCAA this past spring. There were 51 teams with a perfect APR score of 1000 and another 71 teams that scored a 990 in the 2015 report.

Success on the playing field has mirrored the A-10's classroom prowess, with the league earning NCAA postseason bids in each of its 21 sports, including two men's soccer bids and 11 men's and women's basketball bids in 2014-15. Dayton women's basketball made a run to the Elite Eight, challenging eventual national champion UConn in the process, while VCU baseball advanced to the 2015 NCAA Super Regionals.

Women's Basketball A-10 at a Glance in 2014-15

Arguably the most successful year in A-10 women's basketball history, 2014-15 was certainly one for the record books. The year began with a successful media day and the announcement of 40 television games for A-10 women's basketball. Once the season tipped off, it was clear the potential for a big year was there. In-season tournament titles, winning streaks, coaching milestones and award watch lists were just some of the early-season successes.

Deep into the regular season, it became apparent that preseason favorite Dayton and potential top 20 seed George Washington were the teams to beat, but there were a few others looking to challenge for the top seed.

The Colonials, whose 29-4 overall mark set the program record for wins, claimed the Atlantic 10 regular season title and the number one seed. Led by A-10 Player of the Year and National Player of the Week (Feb. 10) Jonquel Jones, GW played its way into the A-10 Championship final, setting up a third matchup with Dayton (George Washington won the two regular season games). Jones then scored 16 of her game-high 21 points in the second half to lead a ranked (No. 21/19) GW to its fifth Atlantic 10 Championship title with a 75-62 victory over second seeded Dayton.

The A-10 sent five teams to the postseason. Champion George Washington and Dayton both earned bids to the NCAA Championship with the Flyers making a run to the Elite Eight. Duquesne, Fordham and Richmond all took part in the 2015 WNIT, with the Dukes advancing to the third round. Fordham also advanced to the second round of the WNIT.

Dayton reached the regional final for the first time in school history after beating Kentucky in the second round and Louisville in the Sweet 16. Eventual national champion UConn beat Dayton 91-70 in the regional finals to end the Flyers' run. Dayton became just the fourth No. 7 seed to advance to a regional final since the field expanded to 64 teams in 1994.

A-10 NCAA HISTORY

- An Atlantic 10 team has been to the NCAA's every year since the tournament's inception in 1983.

- In 1989 a league-high four teams represented the Atlantic 10 in the NCAA Tournament. Atlantic 10 teams have compiled a 64-79 (.448) record in the NCAA Tournament.

- Of the A-10's active members, George Washington boasts the most NCAA Tournament appearances with 16 and is followed closely by Saint Joseph's at 13.

- The A-10 has earned three NCAA bids in seven of the last 11 years and 18 times overall. The best seed ever received in the A-10 was in 1991 when Penn State was a No. 1 seed and earned a first-round bye before getting upset by eighth-seeded James Madison, 73-71.

A-10 WNIT HISTORY

- The A-10 has received at least one bid to compete in the WNIT for 16-straight years. Atlantic 10 teams have compiled a record of 48-57 (.457) in the WNIT after Duquesne, Fordham and Richmond went a combined 4-3 in the 2014-15 WNIT. The Atlantic 10 has received five bids to the WNIT in six of the last eight years.

This past season saw Duquesne advance to the third round for the second time since the 2011 WNIT, defeating Richmond in the second round before falling to West Virginia. GWU reached the third round in 2013-14 with a pair of postseason wins for the first time since 2008.

Sophia Aleksandravicius led Davidson to the 2013 SoCon finals by averaging a double-double (19.3 ppg/11.7 rpg) and earning all-tournament first team honors.

Laura Murray led Davidson to its second straight SoCon Championship game in 2014. It was a memorable one for her as she set the all-time scoring record on her last bucket in the final vs. Chattanooga. Murray averaged 22.7 points during the Wildcats' run to the championship game, earning her all-tournament first team honors for the third year in a row to become the only Wildcat to ever accomplish the feat.

Sarah Womack Parham, inducted in 1996-97

Parham, Director of Psychosocial Club House, Catawba County Mental Health Services, became the first women's basketball player to be inducted into the Davidson Hall of Fame. She set 18 school records in her four-year career from 1977 through 1980 and she's the only female athlete whose jersey is retired. When she graduated in 1980, Womack's school records included most career points (1,249) and rebounds (601). Ranking seventh in career points, she's the all-time leader in points per game (16.7) and is third in made field goals (556). She holds the single-game record for attempted field goals (32) and ranks third in points per game for a single season at 19.1. She received the Rebecca Stimson Award in 1980 as the college's most outstanding female athlete.

Elizabeth A. Tanner, inducted in 1997-98

Beth Tanner was the 1978 recipient of the Rebecca Stimson Award for her accomplishments in women's basketball and field hockey. A standout guard on the basketball team, Tanner graduated in 1978 as the Wildcat's all-time leading scorer in women's basketball with 792 points. Tanner also held single-game (10 against Guilford) and season (67 in 1976) records in assists, and the season record holder for steals with 60. Tanner averaged 11.3 points per game in her career from 1974 through 1978. She also at one time shared the single-game record for field goal percentage with .818 (9 for 11) against Catawba in 1974.

Jennifer R. Roos, inducted in 2004-05

A three-sport athlete at Davidson, Jennifer Roos excelled at whatever she did. She was an outstanding field hockey player during some of the squad's best seasons, earning the Stimson Award as Davidson's top female athlete to cap her career. As a freshman, she was named the team's defensive MVP. The following year, only one person was honored as the team MVP, and she earned it each of her final three seasons. Roos, a defender, scored nine goals and had one assist as a sophomore, the best offensive output of her career. She was named All-Deep South each of her first three campaigns, plus was All-Southeast Region as a junior.

One of the first field hockey players to be awarded a scholarship, Roos was a member of the lacrosse club team that went 12-3 before the sport was elevated to varsity status the year after she graduated. She was also a key player for the women's basketball team in its first season back as a varsity sport during her senior year. She played the point and was one of two players to start all 22 games. Her 77 assists led the team, as did her 64 steals. She also drained a three-pointer at the buzzer to lift the Wildcats to a 64-62 win over Winthrop.

Carolyn Kirsch Rumpel, inducted in 2007-08

Davidson's first women's basketball player to be named SoCon Player of the Year (1997), Kirsch ranks second all-time in rebounding (878) and ranks fifth in scoring (1,370 points). The native of Heidelberg, Germany, earned first-team All-SoCon honors in 1997 and was named second-team all-league in 1996. She was named to the conference's academic honor roll twice and was a two-time winner of the Wildcat Award, given to the team's most valuable player. Kirsch led the 'Cats to a 29-23 overall record and two top-5 SoCon finishes in her final two seasons.

Jennifer O'Brien, inducted in 2010-11

Third all-time scorer in school history with 1,510 points, Jen O'Brien was named first-team All-SoCon in 1998 and 2000, and earned second-team honors in 1999. She was named to the SoCon All-Tournament Team from 1998-2000. O'Brien owns Davidson single-game records in steals and assists. She owns the school all-time marks for assists (588) and steals (368), and ranks in the top-10 in points per game, field goals made, 3-point field goals, 3-point field goal percentage, free throws and rebounds. She won the Wildcat Award for team MVP honors in 1998 and 2000 and the Rebecca Stimson award in 2000. Davidson posted a record of 61-47 during her four-year career.

Carolyn Kirsch, 1996-97

Carolyn Kirsch stepped up her level of play as a senior to lead the Southern Conference in scoring (16.3 ppg) and become the first Wildcat to be named SoCon Player of the Year.

The 5-11 guard from Heidelberg, Germany, was also among the league leaders in steals (2.3 spg), field goal percentage (47.7 percent) and rebounding (7.8 rpg) in 1996-97 while guiding Davidson to a then school record 15 wins. She reached the 20-point plateau eight times as a senior, including a team season-best 26-point performance in the 'Cats' 84-65 win over Western Carolina on Jan. 11, 1997.

sophia aleksandravicius, 2011-12

Sophia Aleksandravicius had a stellar junior campaign, leading the league in rebounding (8.9) and blocks (2.9), while ranking fourth in scoring (13.8) as she was named the SoCon Player of the Year by the coaches. She was also voted the Defender of the Year. Twice Aleksandravicius was named the player of the month during the regular season, while garnering first-team All-SoCon honors on both the coaches and media teams.

The 6-foot-5 forward from Pound Ridge, N.Y., led the Wildcats to a 22-10 record and helped the program capture its first regular season title with a school-best mark of 17-3 in the league.

She finished the season scoring in double-digits in 29 games and registering 11 double-doubles.

sophia aleksandravicius, 2012-13 soCon female athlete of the Year, 2012-13

Sophia Aleksandravicius, a three-time All-SoCon First Team pick in her career, made program history as she became the first Wildcat to earn a second Southern Conference Player of the Year honor, while also grabbing the Defender of the Year for a second straight season as she took home both awards in 2012-13. The 6-foot-5 forward led the SoCon in scoring (16.5), rebounding (9.9) and blocks (102- 2.9 per game / 10th in the nation), all career highs.

Aleksandravicius' award-winning season was not done there as she was named the SoCon Female Athlete of the Year, becoming the first female at Davidson to earn the prestigious award and the seventh Wildcat overall. In addition, the senior was honored with Davidson College's Rebecca A. Stimson Award for being the top student female-athlete.

Other accolades during her amazing senior campaign included being named the SoCon Player of the Year by CollegeSportsMadness.com and earning first-team honors. The publication named Aleksandravicius to the All Mid-Major Second Team. The senior was also a Full Court Mid-Major All-America Honorable Mention by fullcourt.com. She was a first-team SoCon All-Tournament pick after guiding Davidson to the SoCon Championship game for just the second time in program history. During the regular season, Aleksandravicius was a three-time SoCon Player of the Week honoree, and took home the league's player of the month award in January and February to give her four for her career.

It was a record-setting career for Aleksandravicius, who was a two-time SoCon Player and Defender of the Year, and a three-time All-SoCon First Team member on both the coaches and media teams. She set seven school records, including points (1,878), rebounds (1,143) and blocks (339), while also setting six new single-season Wildcat records during her senior year. She is the only women's player, and just the third basketball player at Davidson, to have over 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

The forward also set a single-game blocks record with 10 on her way to collecting the program's first triple-double, Feb. 16, with 20 points, 10 rebounds and 10 blocks in home win vs. Furman.

Aleksandravicius put her name among the greats in the SoCon women's basketball record book during her four years. She finished ranked in the top-10 all-time in: points (10th), scoring (14.8- 9th), field goals (5th), field goal attempts (4th), free throws (9th), free throw attempts (10th), rebounding (4th) and blocks (10- 2nd-best single game, 102- 2nd-best in single season, 339- 1st).

The senior forward wrapped up her stellar career by scoring in double digits 104 times, including 28 20-point outings and a pair of 30-point games. Aleksandravicius registered 56 double-digit rebounding games during her career, with 22 of those coming in the 2012-13 season.

Aleksandravicius led Davidson to its second straight postseason appearance, and third overall, with a trip to the 2013 Women's NIT, where the Wildcats netted the program's first postseason victory. The senior tallied her 50th career double-double, and 20th of the season, with 27 points and 11 rebounds in guiding the 'Cats to a first-round win at Old Dominion, March 21. Her 20 double-doubles ranked 11th in the nation during the season.

Emily Callahan was a second-team all-league pick by the media in 2003.

Two-time SoCon First and Second team member, Carolyn Kirsch.

Mercedes Robinson was a two-time first-team All-SoCon and All-State pick during her four-year career, 2005-09. She led the SoCon in rebounding her senior season at 9.6 rpg.

The 2006-07 season for the Davidson women's basketball team will go down as one of the best, if not the best ever, in program history.

Twenty-three wins. A 10-game winning streak. A nine-game road winning streak. Eleven road wins in all. Ten home wins. Those were just a few of the many accomplishments that either set a new school record or tied one.

For all their hard work, Davidson put an exclamation point on their season when they found out Monday, Mar. 12, 2007 they would continue their historic season with the team's first-ever trip to postseason play when it earned an at-large bid to the Women's National Invitational Tournament.

It marked the first time ever the women's team had earned a postseason bid. They were part of WNIT history as for the first time, each of the nation's 31 conferences will be represented in the WNIT. The tournament expanded to 48 teams this year to accommodate an automatic berth for each of the conferences.

Davidson's opponent in its first trip to postseason play was the UAB Blazers. The two schools had faced each other just once, back on Dec. 16, 2001.

Playing in their first-ever postseason game, the senior trio of Jessica Mitchell, Brynn Kelly, and Tia Washington looked to give the Wildcats their first career postseason win. Mitchell did all she could to keep the Wildcats within striking distance, draining a career-high 24 points by tying her career-best with nine field goals made and hit four of the Wildcats' 10 three-pointers. Three of her four three-balls came in the second half, including one with 14 seconds on the clock to bring the Wildcats within one, 78-77. She also matched her season-high with seven assists.

figures as she registered her fourth career double-double on 12 points and 11 rebounds. Davidson, as a team, hauled in a game-high 46 boards to win the rebounding margin, 46-39.

Trailing by 11 (67-56) with 8:24 left in the game, Davidson started its rally with a three-pointer from Mitchell on the right wing. The shot sparked a 16-5 run over the next five and a half minutes that saw the Wildcats knot things up at 72-all on yet another three-pointer, this time from freshman Alex Thompson on the left side. Junior Danielle Hemerka also canned back-to-back shots from downtown in the run and finished the contest with eight points, four boards and three assists.

A quick 5-0 run, three of the points coming from the Blazers' Diamond Rogers, gave UAB back the lead at 77-72 with just 36 seconds on the clock.

Davidson charged right back, getting a fade-away jumper by sophomore Kelly Gassie and Mitchell's three-pointer that closed the gap to one (78-77). Rogers and Britney Jones sealed the Wildcats' hopes though, hitting three of four free throws in the closing seconds and Mitchell's last-second three-pointer was off target for the final score of 81-77.

The Wildcats did not get many calls their way all evening as the fouls were 20-11 and UAB stepped to the charity stripe 25 times (16-for-25) compared to Davidson's six trips (5-for-6).

Davidson used the hot hand of Mitchell in the first half to jump out to an early 11-10 advantage. Mitchell was perfect in the first half, draining all five of her shots from the field, including her only shot from downtown, and had two free throws for 13-first half points. The Wildcats as a team started the contest hitting eight of their first 12 shots, including two three-pointers. They finished the half nailing 15-of-29 shots from the floor for 51.7 percent and closed out the game shooting 44.9 percent.

UAB grabbed the lead back, 12-11, on the next possession on a layup from Shimena Moore and maintained at least a one-point lead all the way into halftime for a score of 39-36.

Sophomore Mercedes Robinson assisted off the bench during the Wildcats' second-half comeback with all eight her points coming in the second period. She also hauled in nine rebounds and picked up one of Davidson's season-high five blocks.

The Davidson women's basketball team made a return trip to the women's NIT after a record-setting 2011-12 campaign. The Wildcats won their first regular season Southern Conference title with a school-best mark of 17-3, earning the automatic bid into the WNIT. The squad finished with 22 wins, one off the school record, while they rattled off a nine-game winning streak, again one off the 10-game set by the 2006-07 team that made the program's first postseason bid. The Wildcats also set a bench mark with a 12-1 home record at Belk Arena, including a record 9-1 record vs. the SoCon.

The 'Cats took their 22-9 record to Harrisonburg, Va., on Thursday, March 15, for a first-round matchup against the Dukes. It was the first-ever matchup against both teams.

James Madison entered the WNIT with a 24-7 record after reaching the semifinals of the Colonial Athletic Association Tournament. It marked only the second time since 2005 that the Dukes had not advanced to the championship game after winning the last two CAA Championships.

Junior Sophia Aleksandravicius, the SoCon Player of the Year as voted on by the coaches, scored a season-best 25 points and Davidson forced 22 turnovers, but was unable to overcome a 19-7 second-half run by James Madison in falling 64-49 in the first round of the Women's NIT.

Davidson concluded its season at 22-10, one win away from the school-record, as it made its second-ever postseason appearance. James Madison (25-7) moves on and will play Wake Forest in the second round.

Aleksandravicius finished with 25 points, 17 of them in the second-half when she kept the Wildcats in the game. She added nine rebounds, two assists and two blocks.

Down 24-20 at the break, the junior got Davidson's offense rolling by scoring seven straight points to open the new stanza, and a fastbreak bucket by Jasmine Calin after she leaked out on the break gave the 'Cats a 29-28 advantage with 14:13 to go. It would be the only lead Davidson had for the game.

JMU would score a quick six points and then continue their run to 10-2 for a 38-31 advantage. The spurt continued all the way out to 19-7 giving the Dukes the lead for good at 47-36 with under five minutes to go.

Lauren Whitehurst led the rally with eight of her 14 total points in the run. The Dukes overall had three reach double figures with Tarik Hislop scoring 15 points and Kirby Burkholder 11, nine of them on treys.

The lead was cut to nine at 49-40 on a layup by Aleksandravicius with 4:23 remaining, but four straight free throws by Hislop pushed the lead back to double digits and the Wildcats got no closer than 10 the rest of the way.

Despite starting the game just 3-for-16 from the field, Davidson stayed within striking distance thanks to its solid defense. The Wildcats forced nine turnovers early and trailed just 7-6 after a driving layin by Sarah Davis.

It became 12-6 after the Dukes' Hislop hit a short jumper, forcing Davidson to call a timeout. The Wildcats though, came right back with two quick buckets from Laura Murray and Aleksandravicius. The 'Cats leading scorer Murray, who came in averaging just under 15 points, was held to seven points for the game.

Aleksandravicius sparked a mini 8-2 run when she rattled off six straight points and Davidson cut a seven-point Duke lead down to one, 21-20, on a Barbara Sitton fastbreak layup off a Murray steal. Davidson ended up causing 14 first-half turnovers and pocketing three steals.

JMU hit its third three-ball of the half for a 24-20 score at the break.

The Davidson women's basketball team made it back-to-back postseason years with a return trip to the women's NIT after a very strong 2012-13 campaign. The Wildcats entered the first round of the tournament fresh off reaching the Southern Conference title game and were looking to make history with their first-ever postseason win.

Senior Sophia Aleksandravicius led the charge, dominating in the paint with her 20th double-double to pace four Wildcats in double figures and Davidson won the program's first postseason game with an 82-73 victory on the road at Old Dominion in the first round of the Women's National Invitation Tournament Thursday evening at the Ted Constant Convocation Center.

The two-time Southern Conference Player of the Year Aleksandravicius had 27 points and pulled in 11 rebounds for her 50th career double-double. She went a career-best 11-for-14 from the charity stripe as Davidson hit 20 shots at the line.

Laura Murray (16), Dakota Dukes (season-best tying 15) and Jasmine Calin (season-high 10) also registered double figures in points as Davidson moved to 22-12 on the season.

Barbara Sitton for the second game in a row hauled in double figures in rebounds, pulling in a career-best 11 on the defensive end. She also dished out seven assists and Aleksandravicius and Calin had 11 and eight points, respectively, in the half.

Dukes helped push the lead out 16 (51-35) with six points in the first four minutes of the second half. An Aleksandravicius' and-one play two minutes later gave the Wildcats its biggest lead of the game at 58-40 when she swished home the free throw.

Old Dominion went on a 15-7 run to cut the deficit to 10 (65-55) with 7:48 on the clock. Kelley scored the final seven points of the spurt.

Davidson came right back, pushing its lead out to 74-59 on a pair of free throws from Katrin Chiemeka with 4:06 left and did not allow the lead to slip below 11 the rest of the way until the final score.

GAME NOTES: Davidson improved to 6-8 vs. non-conference foes this year ... the 22 wins tie last year's total and are second-most in school history ... Davidson scored 44 points in the paint ... Aleksandravicius crossed the 100-block mark with a pair of swats, giving her a personal-best 101 ... she holds seven career all-time records at Davidson ... her 20-point outing was the 28th of her career.

pocketed four steals.

Davidson as a team pulled in a season-high 57 rebounds, including a season-best 20 on the offensive glass. It also assisted on 21 of its 29 field goals.

ODU (19-12) put three players in double digits, led by Shae Kelley's 21 points. Stephanie Gardner had 15 and Galaisha Goodhope scored 11. The Monarchs, who had not played in 18 days, shot 40.8 percent for the game.

Davidson took control of the contest with a 17-4 run to close the first half that turned a 25-24 deficit with 9:44 remaining into a 41-29 lead at the break.

Jasmine Calin (top) and Dakota Dukes (top on the right) combined for 25 points, while Barbara Sitton filled the stat sheet with a career-high 11 rebounds to go with seven dimes and four steals in Davidson's win at Old Dominion.

opponent, cross-county rival Charlotte 49ers.

The Wildcats battled all the way to the end against its cross-county rival, but Charlotte pulled away with a 19-8 run in the final six minutes to capture a 72-60 victory in the second round of the Women's National Invitation Tournament Sunday afternoon at Halton Arena.

Davidson completed its outstanding season at 22-13, which included earning the program's first postseason win in the first round of the WNIT. Charlotte moved to 26-5 and advances to the third round of the WNIT to face the winner of the Florida/Winthrop contest.

Up 53-52, Charlotte broke free from Davidson by scoring 10 of the next 13 points during a five-minute stretch to give itself a 10-point lead with 1:10 remaining. Jennifer Hailey scored seven of those points for the 49ers on her way to a game-high 22 points.

A free throw by Sophia Aleksandravicius made it 65-56 with 59 ticks left, but the 49ers sealed up with the win by going 7-for-8 at the charity stripe in the last minute, while the Wildcats were unable to convert on offense, turning the ball over three times in the last 1:10.

Aleksandravicius capped off her amazing four-year Wildcat career with 18 points and five rebounds. The two-time SoCon Player of the Year finished her career setting seven all-time school records, including points (1,878), rebounds (1,143) and blocks (339).

Fellow senior Jasmine Calin had one of her best games of the season, scoring a season-high 12 points, nine of them coming in the first half. Hannah Early gave Davidson another spark off the bench scoring 13 points.

Senior Barbara Sitton had four points, five rebounds, four assists and three steals in her last game, while Katrin Chiemeka had two points on a pair of free throws.

Charlotte had three other players join Hailey in double figures. Hillary Sigmon and Jai Forney finished with 13 apiece, while Ny Hammonds scored 12 points and pulled in a game-high tying nine rebounds.

The 49ers shot 47.1 percent from the floor, including 50 percent in the second half, while Davidson was at 37.1 percent. Charlotte held a 43-31 edge on the boards, with both teams each pulling in 15 offensive rebounds.

The Wildcats erased a four-point halftime deficit with an 11-6 run, capped off by an and-one play from Aleksandravicius to start the second half and they had their second lead of the game at 38-37. Charlotte countered though by breaking up a 40-all tie a few minutes later with a quick six for a 46-40 advantage at 11:02 on the clock.

The 'Cats never backed down, getting another three-point play from Calin to make it 50-49 and then when the 49ers had pushed its lead to 53-49, Early struck for a deep trey on the left wing to make it 53-52 with 6:47 left in the game.

Davidson stayed close after the opening tip, getting a driving layup on the baseline by Sitton to make it 8-7. Two triples by Hillary Sigmon doubled the 'Cats up later though at 20-10 with 12:04 left in the first half.

Five straight points, including a three-point play from Calin, cut the deficit in half a few minutes later.

Then down 28-17 after a pair of Hailey free throws, part of her 13 first-half points, the 'Cats switched to a zone-defense and charged back with a 10-0 run. Sparking the run was six straight points from Early to get within one at 28-27 and under a minute to go. Charlotte took away a little of the momentum with the final three points to end the half up 31-27.

GAME NOTES: The 22 wins tied last year's total and are the second-most in school history ... Davidson dropped its fourth straight to Charlotte in the all-time series.

Laura Murray '14 left Davidson as the all-time scoring leader with 1,880 points, setting the mark on her final career shot in the SoCon Championship game. A three-time All-SoCon First Team pick, Murray also set three other all-time career records, while setting three single-season marks, including points with 617 her senior year.

Sarah Womack '80 led the team in scoring all four years at Davidson. She tallied a career-high 32 points against Converse on Dec. 4, 1979.

Kristen Ferrucci '96 improved her shooting percentage every year she was on the squad. Her 55.4 percent field goal accuracy is tops in program history.

Sophia Aleksandravicius '13 was one of the best players in program history, setting seven all-time records as well as five single-season records during her career. She was a two-time SoCon Player and Defender of the Year, 2012 & 2013. Aleksandravicius is only the third basketball player (men or women) at Davidson to collect over 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in a career.

Michele savage (2010-present) - though she has been at Davidson just five years, Savage has put her name among the Wildcat head coaching greats. A few of her accomplishments:

- Named 2011-12 Southern Conference Coach of the Year by media and coaches after guiding Davidson to a 22-10 record and school-best 17-3 mark in SoCon play.
- Won 50th career game at Appalachian State, Feb. 9, 2013 with a 56-49 victory.
- Ranks third all-time with 75 wins and had 52 of those against SoCon foes, second-most.
- Led Davidson to the program's first regular season SoCon title in 2011-12.
- Coached arguably the best player in program history in Sophia Aleksandravicius, who was a two-time SoCon Player and Defender of the Year, the 2013 SoCon Athlete of the Year, a three-time All-SoCon First Team member and set seven all-time career records.
- Coached the all-time scoring leading Laura Murray, who was a three-time All-SoCon First Team.
- Registered back-to-back 22-win seasons in 2011-12 & 2012-13.
- Led Davidson to back-to-back trips to the SoCon Championship title game in 2013 & 2014.
- Led the Wildcats to back-to-back postseason trips with bids into the Women's NIT in 2012 & 2013.
- Led Davidson to a school-record 12 homes wins in 2011-12.
- Guided the 'Cats to a school-best eight-game road win streak and tying a school record with eight straight in the SoCon on the road all in 2013.
- Coached Davidson to the program's first-ever Atlantic 10 win, Jan. 18, 2015 with a win at Saint Louis.
- Has coached 13 SoCon academic honor roll players, three A-10 Commissioner's Honor Roll players, four All-SoCon players, four 1,000-point scorers, four all-league Freshmen Team members, one SoCon Freshman of the Year and Player of the year.
